

Coronavirus (COVID-19) – Update

As the global situation related to the coronavirus (COVID-19) continues to evolve, Johnson & Johnson is taking precautions to support the safety and well-being of our employees and the communities in which we live and work. At the same time, we are working to serve the needs of those who depend on our critical medicines, devices and products. While Johnson & Johnson facilities remain open, we have moved to a work from home approach for office-based employees who can perform their work remotely. For those whose work in a facility is essential to advancing our science or ensuring the supply of our most essential products, we are committed to their health and safety as they continue to work on-site. We will continually reassess our policies consistent with health authority guidance and in support of the wellness of our employees, our communities and those we serve worldwide.
